Total Cut to Be 37 Cents, Aide Reports

Stallings Cites Increase in Values

County Manager E. R. Stallings last week announced that the 1965-66 county basic tax rate will be $1.34, a drop of 22 cents from last year.

He said that the total tax reduction will be 37 cents because the 16-cent county-wide equalization tax for schools has dropped from 16 cents to less than one cent.

The county manager stated that the tax rate drop is a "direct result" of the increased assessed valuation resulting from the reappraisal undertaken this year by County Assessor Ralph Woodman.

However, taxpayers still will pay more into the county coffers this year with some $18,822,000 being raised by the basic rate as compared with $16,225,000 from the basic rate last year.

Other tax funds and income from other sources will make up the balance of the $52,400,000 county budget adopted last June.

Stallings said that it originally was anticipated that the tax rate would be $1.30, but that a duplication of state and federal revenue estimates in two places in the preliminary budget had to be corrected and that fund balances at the end of the fiscal

License Contest Extended

With more than $2,000 in cash prizes already awarded in the Lucky License contest, The Post-Times management today announced that the popular bumper strip game would be extended through Monday, Labor Day.

The San Mateo Times, San Mateo county's largest daily newspaper and parent publication of The Post, announced continuance of the Lucky License game for an additional week in order to accommodate heavy reader interest. Extension of the contest will mean approximately $800 in additional prize money.

Five more days remain for readers to obtain the orange and black Lucky License bumper strips to display on their automobiles.

Owners of vehicles selected daily by the roving "mystery photographer" are entitled to a $50 cash prize. The amount is doubled if the winner is a Times subscriber.

Each day a photo of the Lucky License is published in The Times and prizes must be claimed by 10 a.m. the following morning.

In the North County, free bumper strips may be obtained at the Daly City office of the Post-Times, 30 Park Plaza Drive in the Westlake Shopping Center.

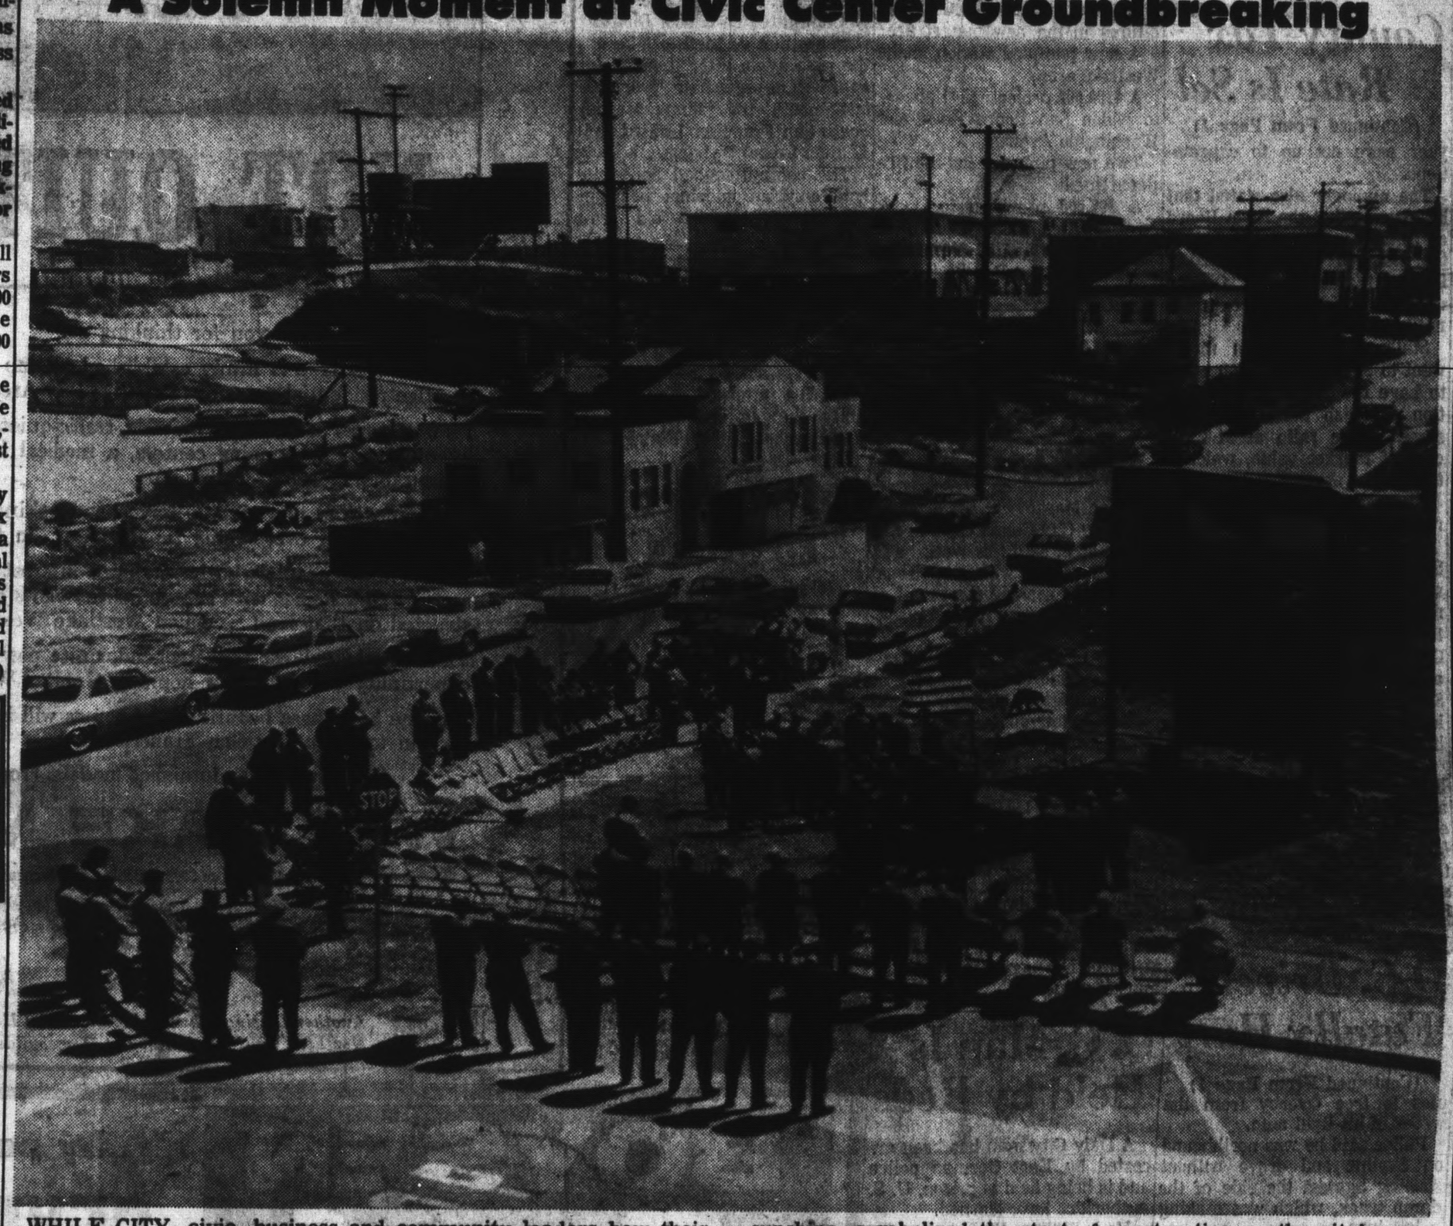
D.C. Lops 33 Cents Off Tax Rate

A Solemn Moment at Civic Center Groundbreaking



WHILE CITY, civic, business and community leaders bow their heads, the Rev. Kenneth Hansen, pastor of Westlake Lutheran Church, gives the invocation at groundbreaking ceremonies for Daly City's $3-million Civic Center complex that will occupy a side bounded by Ninetieth and Ninety-second Streets and Edgeworth and Sullivan Avenues. The ceremonies, conducted in bright sunshine, symbolized the start of construction on the city's new municipal home. Earlier at a civic luncheon, the same group heard Mayor Francis Pacelli pay tribute to the late Joseph Verducci as the man who "sort of set the stage for what is happening today." (Post-Times Photo)

PLEDGE RECALLED

Reappraisal Said Key to Low Figure

By DON MILLER

Daly City Councilmen slashed a whopping 33½ cents off the city's tax rate Monday night in approving a $4,669,000 budget for the 1965-66 fiscal year.

The cut in the tax rate, councilmen indicated, was due largely to the reassessment of property undertaken by County Assessor Ralph Woodman this year.

The new rate will be $1.17 per $100 of assessed valuation. The rate last year was $1.505.

Whether a property owner's city tax bill will be higher or lower than what he paid last year will depend upon how much the appraisal of his property was boosted, Finance Director Joseph Arch pointed out.

In a budget message to the council, City Manager Edward Frank noted that without the increase in assessments, the city still would have been able to cut the tax rate two cents.

When Woodman undertook his program of reappraisals earlier this year, councilmen pledged to compensate for this by cutting the tax rate.

Commenting on the pledge and the cut in the tax rate, Councilman Bernard Lycett declared:

"In a small way, we have done what every taxing body in this county should have done."

Lycett noted that Daly City residents also will pay a sanitation district tax that will be about 17 cents lower per $100 of assessed valuation and that this, together with the cut in the city rate, "will lower taxes in our jurisdiction 50 cents."

Councilman Albert Polonsky said the budget showed that Daly City did not need a reassessment of property. "Without the reappraisals, we would have been able to lower the tax rate," he asserted.

Mayor Francis Pacelli said the "low tax rate is indicative of just what kind of a job the city's administrative staff has done."

Councilman Edward Dennis said that with the cut in the rate "we feel we've kept our pledge with the people of Daly City, which they deserve."

In addition to the higher assessments for all property, the

College Rate Gets 4th and Final Slash

A fourth — and final — cut in San Mateo Junior College District's 1965-66 tax rate was announced last week at the meeting of the board of trustees.

Superintendent Julio L. Bortolazzo informed the board at its College of San Mateo session that with total district assessed valuation now firmly fixed at nearly $1.3 billion, the rate per $100 of assessment will be 40.2 cents — down more than half a cent from the 40.8-cent levy adopted earlier this month.

The final rate, trustees noted, is 5.4 cents less than last year's.

In June when the preliminary budget was submitted, the suggested rate — embodying the first cut from the 1964-65 total — was 44.7 cents. This was whittled to 41 cents by the time the board approved the publication budget in July, and trimmed again in the budget adoption on August 4.

Ground Is Broken for D.C. Center

With a host of armchair contractors wielding shovels, Daly City turned the first—and symbolic—shovelful of dirt Thursday afternoon for its $3 million Civic Center between Ninetieth and Ninety-second Streets and Edgeworth and Sullivan Avenues.

Actual construction of the center is scheduled to begin September 10. City officials are aiming at a completion date of March 1967.

Thursday's ceremony, conducted against a backdrop of a huge billboard depicting an architect's conception of the center, culminated more than two years of planning by city officials.

The center will be built by a non-profit corporation that will lease the center to the city. The corporation was formed by the city as a means of financing the structure at the least cost to taxpayers.

Prior to the groundbreaking program, some 60 city, civic, business and community leaders gathered for a civic luncheon in the new Lake Merced

2 Jets Veer To Miss D.C. Car on Field

A Daly City motorist was charged with drunken driving Monday night after he drove his auto onto a runway at San Francisco International Airport, forcing one passenger jet to accelerate a takeoff and an incoming jet to pull up sharply to avoid a collision.

The driver, Louis Mazola, 63, of 139 Vista Grande Avenue, also was charged with violating an airport regulation against driving on runways. A companion, Mrs. Ida Strasser, 43, of San Francisco, was charged with drunkenness.

Mazzola told Albert Masry, airport security officer, that he thought he was on the Bayshore Freeway. Masry, in his patrol car, had chased Mazzola over several runways before managing to halt Mazzola's auto.

Sheriff's deputies credited the alertness of pilots and employes in the control tower and the work of Masry for averting a disaster.

Of the two jets endangered by Mazzola's auto, one was a Washington-bound United Airline craft with 36 persons aboard and the other a Delta Airlines jet, arriving from Atlanta with 56 persons aboard.

Control tower personnel alerted the pilots of both planes when

OPEN SESSION IN PACIFICA

Chamber, Council Will Meet

Directors of the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce will meet with City Councilmen Tuesday to review the relationship between the two public bodies.

The meeting was called in the wake of the resignation of Chamber Manager John Overfield last week.

He charged then that the directors had altered the chamber's budget after the City Council agreed to contribute $8,400 this year to the organization's program. He said the alterations constituted a "breach of faith."

Stanley vander Hule, chamber president, replied that the budget had been only a proposed fiscal plan.

The meeting Tuesday will be at 7 p.m. in the faculty room of Pacific Manor School. It will be open to the public, vander Hule said.

He explained that "chamber and city" relations would be examined. The meeting was called at the suggestion of the chamber.

"Something had to be done," vander Hule said, in reference to last week's events.

He added that the chamber is now taking applications for the manager job, which will be continued on a full-time basis. The directors will meet tomorrow and are expected to set September 15 as the deadline for applications.

Clubhouse, three blocks from the Civic Center site.

Luncheon hosts were the center's architects, Haines-Tatarian & Associates and the Guy F. Atkinson Company, the center's general contractor.

Mayor Francis Pacelli, who presided over the luncheon program, opened the formal part of the program with a reference to the late Joseph Verducci.

While Daly City's mayor, Verducci had included the construction of a new city hall among what he considered the city's top priority projects.

Pacelli said that Verducci "sort of set the stage for what is happening today."

The mayor then reviewed the planning that has preceded the center project to date, noting that construction will not result in an increase in the tax rate.

Summing up, he remarked: "We're not up here to pat ourselves on the back but I feel we've come a long way today."

Donald Haines, one of the two partners in the center's architectural team, praised the city for the co-operation they have received.

"From the first day," he said, "we got the feeling of complete co-operation. It soon became apparent that this entire project was not going to be an architect's idea but more of a team's idea." And he added:

"This is going to be one of the most outstanding projects we've worked on . . . I want everyone to feel the pride we feel for the project."

James Rafferty, fiscal consultant who arranged for the financing of the center, also praised the city. He observed:

"Rarely, if ever, have I had the co-operation I've had from this city."

He said that the 3.66 per cent interest that the Civic Center corporation will pay on its bonds represents "the lowest interest rate at which a city hall has been financed of any city hall in the West."

This, he said, was "a tribute to the financial wisdom of the city fathers over the years."

Harry F. Farber, vice president of the Civic Center Corporation, said, "It took a lot of work and a lot of people to ultimately wind up at what we're doing here today."

Donald K. Grant, representing the Guy F. Atkinson Company, injected a philosophical note when he commented:

"I've been asked to say a few words and a few words is right. No contractor likes to say many words at a ground-breaking. He prefers to have a few words at the dedicaiton."

An explanation for the interval between the ground-breaking ceremony and the September 10 start was given later by City Engineer Arthur Reschke.

He said the time was needed by the Pacific Gas & Electric Company to relocate six poles and a substation now on the Civic Center site.

Burglary at Toto's Nets Thief $1,800

A thief, working by the light of matches, stole $1,800 from an upstairs office at Toto's Restaurant at 1913 Junipero Serra Boulevard in Daly City over the weekend, police reported yesterday.

Frank Spadarella of San Francisco, owner of the restaurant, said the money — all in currency — had been set aside for the payment of taxes.

It had been placed in an envelope in a locked file cabinet in the restaurant office.

Investigators said the thief apparently pried open a rear door to the upstairs area, which serves both as living quarters and an office.

They found a number of burned matches, both in the office and outside the rear door, indicating the thief had kept striking matches for light.

A coin collection, also in the cabinet, was not taken, investigators said.

D.C. Man Killed on Motorcycle

A Daly City man lost his life Sunday night near San Rafael when the motorcycle he was riding swerved off the road.

Charles Barton McDonald, 34, 225 Coronado Street, was taking his turn riding a friend's cycle. He sped down a fire road between San Rafael and San Anselmo. When he didn't return, his friends searched the road but were unable to find McDonald or the motorcycle.

Early Monday, a truck driver spotted the bike and McDonald's body in the thickets.

McDonald had lived in Daly City with his parents. He was sales manager of Pop Corn Specialties, 3075 Twenty - third Street.

Lynch Asks, Is Granted Early Trial

Early trial of the lawsuit charging him with unprofessional conduct was requested last week in Superior Court by Alfred R. Lynch, controversial Pacifica teacher.

Judge J. A. Branson agreed to the motion for early trial, directing the matter be placed on the pre-trial calendar for September or October.

The suit, filed last June by the district attorney's office on behalf of the Laguna Salada Union School District, accuses Lynch of evident unfitness for service and refusal to obey reasonable regulations.

Lynch was a fourth grade teacher at Vallemar School until he was fired last April 19.

year were not up to expectations.

The manager also stated that he expects that the State Board of Equalization will not reduce the assessed values established in San Mateo County. Official word on this is not expected until after September 1.

Stallings early this month went to Sacramento in an effort to have the Board of Equalization establish the county's assessed value ratio at 21.8 per cent of market value, which is the state average.

The reappraisal by Woodman resulted in a 24.8 per cent ratio.

Stallings noted that the new San Mateo County rate is considerably lower than the $1.86 rate established in adjacent Santa Clara County, although Santa Clara assesses at the same rate as San Mateo. He noted that San Mateo County still has the lowest tax rate of any county in California.

Stalling said that some $2 million in assessed value reductions allowed by the supervisors in equalization hearings for farm lands were not significant in the new tax rate, probably amounting only to two-tenths of 1 per cent.

D.C. Driver Fatally Hurt

utes to free Overby from the wreck of his light auto.

Police said he was northbound on Skyline and drove without slowing against the side of the dump truck, which was making a left turn.

The truck overturned and spilled its load of sand on the road near the police pistol range.

The driver of the truck, Manuel Sargine, 63, of San Francisco, escaped injury.

Overby was San Francisco's 54 traffic fatality of the year. At the same date last year, the total was 75.

tax rate also reflects a hefty increase in new construction in the city during the past year — particularly in the new Serramonte and Westlake West subdivisions.

At a briefing on the budget Monday morning, Arch said the city normally experiences a 7 to 8 per cent increase in its total assessed valuation each year.

The new construction during 1964-65, however, boosted this rate of increase to 14 per cent this year, Arch pointed out.

The total budget of $4,669,000 is the second highest in the city's history. The record, $5,025,000, was set last year when the city budgeted $638,000 for the purchase of the Civic Center site and for architectural fees.

Some of the major new expenditures in the new budget are:

A new pumping station in the Westlake area.

A $130,000 project (first phase) to widen San Pedro Road and Washington Avenue.

Two new pumpers for the fire department.

A $90,000 provision for work on extending Hickey Boulevard.

An expenditure of $10,000 for traffic signals at Dorchester and Eastgate drives.

An increase of $266,000 in employe salaries. (Nineteen new positions have been authorized.)

Markovich Denies Link With Recall

Peter Markovich, manager of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce, said this week he is not associated with a citizens' committee seeking the recall of County Assessor Ralph Woodman.

Last month, H. Vance Wardlow of Menlo Park, treasurer of the Committee Opposing Inequitable Assessments, said that Markovich was a member of the group.

Markovich declared that he had not given permission for his name to be associated with the committee.

The group has begun the circulation of petitions seeking the recall of Woodman. Members claim that tthe assessor erred in reappraising county property at too high a percentage of fair market value.

D.C. Man Is Held by Reds

A Daly City man has been arrested by East German police and is being held in prison, U. S. authorities have learned.

He is William W. Lovett of 581 Bellevue Avenue, a Daly City volunteer firemen from 1962 to 1964. He reportedly was visiting Germany as a tourist at the time of his arrest.

Lovett, according to U. S. Mission officials in Germany, has been in custody since May. The cause of his arrest was apparently connected with a traffic accident involving bodily injury.

School Unity Meeting Set For Sept. 21

A hearing on a familiar theme —a proposal to unify the Laguna Salada School District by itself and thus split the Jefferson High School District—will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday, September 21, in the multi-use room of Fairmont School in Pacifica.

The proposal has been rejected by the State Board of Education.

However, the San Mateo County Committee on School District Organization decided to take up the plan again after it failed to approve an alternate proposal last month—the joining of the South San Francisco Unified and Laguna School Districts.

The committee had hoped to hold only an informal hearing on resubmitting the old proposal.

However, the district attorney's office ruled that a new, formal hearing had to be conducted.

In addition to unifying Laguna Salada within its own boundaries, the proposal also would unify the Jefferson, Brisbane and Bayshore School Districts.

Masry said that Mazzola admitted drinking more than a dozen highballs. The driver said he had gone to the airport to meet a cousin.

Laguna Will Go on With Enrichment

Seventh and eighth grade enrichment progrms will continue in the Laguna Salada Elementary School District this year, Supt. Frederick E. Lucas reported to the board of trustees last week.

At a previous meeting, an overrride tax was proposed by Trustee Ruth Boudinot to raise approximately $17,000 to help cover extra costs of the enrichment programs.

She said she felt that this tax was needed to free a like amount of money for the 3.5 per cent teacher salary increase approved by the board.

Failure of Mrs. Boudinot's motion resulted in the assumption by many people in the community, board members and teachers as well, that the enrichment program had been eliminated, Lucas said.

He explained that the excess costs of the program will be paid from the district's general purpose tax receipts as has been done in previous years.

A cost of approximately $60,000 for the seventh and eighth grade program was included in the general fund budget so there will be no interruption of enrichment classes, he said.

He added that monies to cover the cost of salary increases will be taken out of the district's capital funds and other areas of the budget.

Cut Budgets, Dolwig Tells S.M. Mayors

With the warning, "We are constantly trending towards more centralized government," State Senator Richard L. Dolwig urged the mayors of San Mateo County Friday night to cut their own municipal budgets to reduce the high cost of government.

Speaking before a meeting of the San Mateo Council of Mayors in San Mateo, Dolwig predicted that his bill to divide California into two states — defeated by one vote in committee in the last session of the legislature in Sacramento — will eventually be successful.

According to the state senator the long predicted "taxpayers' revolt" has now arrived, and unless local governments reduce their own budgets — even by 10 or 15 per cent — few bond issues in the future are likely to pass.

Pointing out that he was the author of a bill in 1950 to set up a Bay regional agency to take up regional problems when asked to by municipal or county officials, Dolwig said the point has how been reached where local governments are threatened by regional supergovernments.

"We now have the McAteer Commission which may supersede local government."

Dolwig claimed the "impetus" for creating the commission to control Bay fill operations came from the East Bay, rather than the West Bay.

Dolwig said the federal anti-poverty program is an example where federal monies "filter down" to the local level and "bypasses" local government.

The veteran state official noted that a pilot program to aid school dropouts had been set up by the state at a minimal cost in Riverside County four years ago. He said now the federal government has stepped in and "said we will take over your facilities."

Pacifica Man Refuses Aid; Dies at 61

A Pacifica man who suffered a series of heart attacks during a three-day period but declined to go to a hospital suffered a final attack last Wednesday afternoon.

James M. Holloway, 61, of 431 Inverness Drive, a warehouseman, was pronounced dead on arrival at Peninsula Hospital at 5:48 p.m.

Deputy Coroner Joseph McPheters said that Holloway had suffered a total of six heart attacks since last Christmas.

August 23, Holloway suffered an attack while returning home from a trip to Oregon, and was given oxygen at Medford, McPheters reported.

Upon his return, Holloway suffered an attack Tuesday night and was given oxygen by the Pacifica Fire Department. Again early yesterday afternoon the fire department administered oxygen after Holloway suffered yet another attack.

McPheters said that Holloway declined the urging of his wife, Marie, and the firemen that he go to a hospital.

Supervisors Will Review Antenna Law

County supervisors want to take another look at their recently enacted ordinance providing non-exclusive franchises in the county for community television antenna systems.

A two-week delay in action on the request by Pacifica Cable Television Company for a permit to allow an antenna system anywhere in the county was voted by the board last week.

It was the first time, supervisors noted, that the board had received a permit request for a county-wide system, although such would be allowed under the "non-exclusive" clause in the ordinance.

The board already has approved several permits for antenna systems, but only for specified areas.

Supervisors moved that the matter be continued to September 7, stating, "We should review our whole position."

Paul Hupf, representing the Pacifica Company, stated that although the firm had made application for a county-wide franchise, it intends to originally establish an antenna system for the area bounded by the south city limits of Pacifica, the north city limits of Half Moon Bay and Skyline Boulevard.

State Parks Aide to Talk

Members of the North County's park and recreation departments have been invited to a meeting of the San Mateo Regional Planning Committee at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the supervisors' chambers in the Hall of Justice in Redwood City.

Harry Dean, a staff member of the State Division of Beaches and Parks, will discuss the state's plans for acquisition and development of property for state parks in San Mateo County.

Orientation Programs Set for High Schools

Orienattion programs for entering ninth grade students and new students will be held in the four schools of the Jefferson High School District next week.

The programs will include meetings with student leaders, counselors, and administrators.

Talks will be given on school policies, class programming, student activities and guidance services. Here is the schedule for the four schools:

Oceana and Terra Nova—8:30 to about 11 a. m. Tuesday.

Westmoor—8:15 to about 10 a. m. Tuesday.

Jefferson—8:30 to about 11 a. m. Tuesday.

Students will meet in the gymnasiums of each of the four schools.

By LE PACINI

MUCH AS WE dislike writing about what everyone else writes about, we feel compelled to say a few things about Bat Marichal:

(1) THERE IS never an excuse for hitting another man over the head with a baseball bat, even if you have an uncontrolable Latin temper, were merely defending yourself, and the guy deserved it.

(2) HOWEVER, it was Marichal's first offense AND he is not being punished as much as are his team and Giant fans. League President Warren Giles, considering the pennant race, should have forgotten the suspension and levied a heavier fine. The Giants, who depend on pitching almost as much as the Dodgers, need Marichal.

(3) OR, ROSEBORO, the instigator, should have received a suspension and fine, as well.

(4) A BASEBALL bat is no more lethal than a baseball thrown by Don Drysdale, who has continually escaped punishment for throwing at Giant batters. It was Drysdale, remember, who almost knocked the Giants out of the '62 penant by breaking Jimmy Davenport's hand.

(5) WE THINK Bob Considine summed it up best when he said it was the biggest baseball fight in years and the only damage was three stitches.

WE SEE WHERE Dick Bradlee, a tennis teacher, has come up with a new gimick called "instant tennis," which is designed to develop tennis champs quicker. He's garnered mountains of films showing how top players contradict some of the basic techniques and still win. He feels that perhaps these "classic techniques" aren't so important, after all, and that youngsters might develop faster by copying the unorthodoxy of the Tildens, Kramers, Talberts, etc.

Hogwash, Mr. Bradlee, and we say that not knowing a thing about how to teach tennis.

But as we said a couple of weeks ago when discussing great baseball players who break "rules" and get away with it, you have to become good first before you can get great enough to ignore the basics.

WE WERE SORRY to read a recent dispatch announcing the retirement of former great 49er end R. C. Owens.

We interviewed him 24 hours before the auto accident, a couple of years ago that proved fatal to Owens' baby daughter, and injured R. C.

But we'll always believe that the physical injuries to Owens affected his comeback far less than his scars of anguish.

REMEMBER, a couple of weeks ago, how we wrote about the undefeated Fisher Realty baseball team (Terra Nova) in the Golden Gate Park Saturday League, and how we commented that we invariably jinx people when we write about them?

Fisher Realty hasn't won a game since.

FACTISTICS: The Giants, at this writing, have as good a team ERA as the AL leaders, the White Sox. The Mets' best two chuckers in the ERA department, Tug McGraw and Jim Bethke, have joined the Marines. Do you think Viet Nam would be THAT much nicer than the Mets? . . . If Minnesota (the only major league team, incidentally, which is named for a state rather than a city) were in the NL, it would be third in homers, fourth in batting, second in runs scored. . . .

Cincinnati is leading the majors in batting, runs scored, doubles, total bases, extra base hits, slugging percentage, and is second in triples and homers. And their two best hitters, Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson, are having—for them—subpar seasons. We shudder to imagine how far Cincy would be ahead with those two guys hitting normally and their great pitching potential functioning properly.

The Dodgers possess almost one-third of all the switchhitters (excepting pitchers) in the majors. They have half the NL total of eight. The American League has only five switchers, and four of those are confined to two teams, the Yanks and the White Sox.

THOUGHTS ON BASEBALL: Isn't it strange that the two biggest loudmouths and complainers in baseball are Bobby Bragan, who's never had a major league team in the first division, and Birdie Tebbetts, who's never had a team higher than third, and that was nine years ago?

And isn't it a coincidence that the two quietest men in baseball, Walter Alston and Al Lopez, are also two of the most successful managers in the game?

While still on the Dodgers: Alston's done a fantastic job in combatting weak hitting and injuries with two pitchers, speed, 31-year-old rookies and an ex-coach. Gilliam, the coach, hasn't had a regular job in the season's opener for years, but always ends up with one, just as Cincy's lefthander, Joe Nuxhall, is never a starter until mid-season.

The Dodgers defy baseball law. For instance, with men on first and third with no outs early in a game, a team plays back for the DP. "If we can't score one run," the manager will shout, "we don't deserve to win." The Dodgers have to play to cut off that run, because it could be the ball game.

We mean this as no knock to the Dodgers but they are proving daily that luck is almost as essential and concrete a factor in sports as talent.

Sandy Koufax is not temperamental like Juan Marichal for a basic text book reason. Not many people remember that Sandy came up the hard way, got plenty of knocks before he found himself. Marichal pitched a one-hitter in his first major league game. He's been an only child.

People say Willie Mays (who we believe has the lousiest swing of any of the game's current good hitters) never hits his homers with men on base. Naturally. Nobody besides Mays ever gets on base. He has to drive himself in.

We like Herman Franks' philosophy of winning today and letting tomorrow take care of itself. Dark used to plan his pitching rotation three weeks in advance and drop out of the race, in the meantime, rather than upset his plans.

ON RELIEF PITCHERS: They used to be the guys who were too old or too mediocre to be starters. Now they're grown and cultured like fine orchids. They can also be ruined, ironically, by good starters who don't give them enough practice to keep sharp. And, relievers should be "credited" with games they fail to save as well as for games they do save.

PAL Benefit Bowling Rolls to Fast Start

Mixing It Up

STEVE CURL of 445 Knowles Avenue and Tom Tijerino of 5 Park Manor Drive aren't sparing any punches here as they mix it up in a boxing match scheduled as part of the annual junior Olympics program of the Daly City Recreation Department. Referee ruled the contest a draw.

600 Youngsters Compete In D.C. Junior Olympics

More than 600 Daly City youngsters turned out Saturday afternoon for the annual Junior Olympics program of the Westlake Recreation Department at Westlake Park.

Each city playground was represented in the program, which opened with a parade that included a Viking ship float, a make-believe cobra snake and a Japanese dragon and a Dutch windmill.

Sports competition included five events for three age groups.

In the boys' events, Garden Village, representing Greece, took top honors with 19 points. George Washington, representing Ireland, was second with 18½ and Westlake, playing the role of the Netherlands, was third with 16 points.

In the girls' events, Lincoln Park's "Australians" took the top spot with 39 points. Westlake was second with 30 and Garden Village third with 29.

Recreation Department officials reminded residents that play areas at the War Memorial Community Center, Lincoln, Frankfort, Westmoor, Westlake, Marchbanks, Northridge and Palisades Parks will be open until September 10 from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

CAR DAMAGED

Jeffery Lashkoff of 275 Park Plaza Drive, Daly City, reported to police last week that someone had broken a vent window on his car.

City Aides Launch Tourney

A turnout of Daly City governmental and police officials Saturday evening helped launch the annual Police Athletic League (PAL) Benefit Bowling Tournament at Westlake Bowl.

The tourney will continue until early October. Proceeds of the tourney support the entire PAL program, which operates on an annual budget of $3,200 a year.

This year, the PAL program includes 17 baseball teams with a total of 340 boys; 11 football teams with a total of 150 boys and 18 basketball teams with 40 boys.

WALLET STOLEN

Alice Baker of 54 North Mayfair Avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that her wallet, containing $10 and credit and identification cards, had been stolen while she was shopping in a store in the Westlake Shopping Center.

125 Golfers To Compete In Divoteer

The annual Divoteer Open Golf Tournament will be held at the Silverado Golf Course in Napa County next Wednesday.

The tournament was organized 12 years ago for North County golfers by Judge Frank Blum and Frank Gigli.

Cairman of the tournament this year is Peter Markovich. Defending champion is Joseph Sarto Jr.

More than 125 entrants are expected. A $15 fee will include an option of either breakfast or lunch, dinner, course fee, green fees and the cost of prizes.

Giants Will Host Scouts

San Mateo County Cub Packs, Scout units and Explorer posts will invade Candlestick Park September 9 for the San Francisco-Houston game as guests of the Giants.

Seats are available to all Scouts in the county, but they must be registered with their troop, pack or post leader. One adult must accompany each five boys.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the local Scout units or the San Mateo County Council of Boy Scouts, 1300 South Bayshore Boulevard, San Mateo.

Pitt and Penn State began their football rivalry in 1893. Pitt leads 34-27.

Architects Are Chosen

San Mateo Junior College District's south campus architects have been selected in international competition to create a master plan for the new University of the Americas in Mexico City.

Morton Rader of Chan-Rader and Associates said his firm, which is collaborating on the Redwood City-Woodside campus with Welton Beckett and Associates, will start to work soon on the big project, so that the university can be constructed in time for the Olympic Games to be held in Mexico in 1968.

Rader was also a key figure on the architectural team that designed College of San Mateo's nationally praised campus.

Hudson Self-Service Firm Opens Outlet in Daly City

Another link in the expanding chain of Hudson Self-Service Stores has opened at 1 San Pedro Road in Daly City.

The 60-store chain, a statewide operation, offers bargains in shoes, clothing and household needs, according to a Hudson spokesman.

The company formerly limited its operation to shoes. It has embarked upon a program of offering a broad line of merchandise in all of its stores.

George Burger, district manager of Hudson in the Bay Area, said that self-service and volume buying are two of a number of reasons why the stores are able to offer quality footwear and accessories at what he termed "dramatically low prices."

Other Hudson stores in the Bay Area are situated in San Francisco, Oakland, San Pablo and Vallejo.

L. L. Nolan of Anaheim reported to Daly City police over the weekend that he had lost his wallet containing $250 to $300

Safeway Sales Show '65 Rise

For the 32 weeks ended August 14 sales totaled $1,791,213,034 as against $1,680,739,436 for the comparable 1964 period.

THEFTS REPORTED

Officials of Kapp Properties of San Francisco reported to Daly City police last week that plywood and pipe fittings had been stolen and a forklift truck damaged at a construction site at 57 Knowles Avenue.

Sugar... 'n' Spice

By NELL NORTON

HOW STRANGE that after vacations, most adults need a week or more of rest to recover from them. But not the children! They can swim, hike, run, jump, play games and travel a thousand miles—all in a week and arrive home full of energy and looking for something to do. Ah youth, 'tis wasted on the young.

In case your are just back from summer fun (and exhausted), perhaps I can give you some help. I wish I could send you a magic lamp that you could rub and produce a genlie to do your cooking and homemaking but unfortuantely we are fresh out of lamps.

However, I can give you a recipe that will produce a delicious dinner with the minimum of work. And while it's baking, you can sit in the living room with your feet up, and watch TV.

APPLESAUCE MEATBALLS

2 pounds ground meat
1 cup coruflakes, crushed
1 onion, medium size, finely chopped
1½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon garlic salt
1 egg, beaten
½ cup canned applesauce
2 cans tomato sauce, 4 oz. size

Combine all ingredients, except the tomato sauce, and mix thoroughly. Shape into small balls. Place in an open roasting pan. Pour the tomato sauce over top. Bake in 350 degree oven. Makes 34 to 38 meatballs, depending on the size. This recipe can be halved if your requirements are less.

Mashed potatoes go especially well with these meatballs, for they have a delicious gravy to top the potatoes. Green peas (what could be easier?) and cole slaw would complete the meal.

HOMEMADE cookies make a nice dessert and these spice bars are quite easy to make and are most delicious.

SPICE BARS

1 cup raisins
2 cups water

Boil ten minutes and add 1 teaspoon soda. Set aside to cool.

½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg
Dash of salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
⅛ teaspoon cloves and all-spice
½ teaspoon nutmeg
2 cups flour

Cream the shortening and sugar. Add the egg and salt. Mix well. Sift the dry ingredients together and add to creamed mixture and blend. Lastly, add the cooled raisins.

Bake in greased jelly roll size pan in a 375 degree oven for 20 minutes or until done. If you wish, you can frost these cookies with a thin, white icing. But it really isn't necessary. Just as they are, they are delicious.

They Exchanged Vows

KAREN LEE LUCIANO, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Luciano of 68 Third Avenue, Daly City, and Richard Defino, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Couple Are Married In S.F. Rites

Ptyllis Ann Spiller became the bride of Benton Louis Bacigalupi at the altar of the Holy Trinity Russian Orthodox Cathedral in San Francisco.

The bride is the doughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Spiller of San Mateo. An alumna of Hillsdale High School, she attended College of San Mateo and is a member of Epsilon Delta. Her father escorted her down the aisle.

The new matron wore an Empire style organza and Chantilly lace gown with clusters of pearl beads on the bodice, the skirt and the removable overskirt which formed a chapel train. A matching lace headpiece secured the elbow-length veil. She carried white roses, lilies of the valley and orchids in her bouquet.

Jeannine Mourton was maid of honor. She shared attendant's duties with Mrs. John Zotti, the benedict's sister who was the bridesmaid.

The benedict is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben C. Bacigalupi of Daly City.

He was graduated from Balboa High School in San Francisco and attended the University of California where he was affiliated with Delta Chi.

Raymond Etzler was best man. Guests were seated by William Ludwigsen, John Zotti, and David James Spiller, the bride's brother.

MR. AND MRS. LARRY BIANCHI

St. Catherine's Catholic Church was the setting for the marriage of Lucia Jeanne Yardley and Larry James Bianchi. The couple received felicitations at the American Legion Hall in San Mateo before departing for a honeymoon trip to Lake Tahoe.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Jean Dolores Yardley. She was escorted down the aisle by Callistus V. Houlinan of South San Francisco, her uncle.

For her nuptials, the bride wore a white lace floor length gown with long lace sleeves. A Chantilly lace crown which was decorated with pearls, secured her bouffant veil. She carried a round bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. Roger Brunet, the bridegroom's sister, of San Mateo, was matron of honor.

Bridesmaids duties were performed by Mrs. H. James Yardley of Campbell, the bride's sister-in-law. Sylvia Berges of Hillsborough and Leslie Hunken of Palo Alto.

The benedict is the son of Mrs. Ray Delucchi of El Centro and Carl Bianchi of South San Francisco. He asked his brother-in-law to be best man.

Ushering duties were performed by the bride's three brothers, H. James, Thomas J. and David R. Yardley.

When the new matron departed for her trip she had changed into on aqua knit suit with matching accessories. She and her husband will live in San Mateo.

Among the guests were Mrs. Maria Tobacco, the benedict's grandmother and Mrs. Betty Orr, the bride's grandmother.

Patricia Dennis Becomes Mrs. Michael Lanthier

Six attendants gowned in yellow preceded Patricia Anne Dennis to the altar of Holy Angels Church where she was married to Michael Lee Lanthier.

The Rev. John P. Heaney, uncle of the bride, officiated at the noon ceremony before an altar flanked by white gladioli.

Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Joseph Dennis Sr., of 450 Firecrest, Pacifica, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a long white organza gown with a train and carried white roses and stephanotis.

Rose Chaput and Jeanne Anthony, cousin of the bride, were honor attendants. Bridesmaids were two more cousins, Ann Guiney and Margot Flynn and Geralynn Dennis, Patricia's sister. Their yellow linen costumes were topped with yellow and white lace jackets and they carried yellow roses.

Kathleen Dennis, another sister of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a yellow floor length dress with a lace bodice and carried a basket of yellow baby roses. Sean Lanthier was the ring bearer.

Patrick Lanthier was his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mrs. Burt C. Lanthier Jr., of 2331 Tipperary Avenue, South San Francisco. Guests were escorted to their pews by Robert and Thomas Dennis, brothers of the bride; John Lanthier, a cousin of the bridegroom, and Harold Shurgin.

The new matron was graduated from St. Paul's High School. Her husband, a graduate of St. Ignatius High School, attended the College of San Mateo.

The couple will be at home in South San Francisco after a wedding trip to Santa Catalina Island. For traveling, Patricia changed to a white and olive green suit.

HURRY HINT

If you are in a big hurry when you are making chili con carne, you can use instant minced onion instead of taking time to chop regular onion.

SPICE BEEF

A little dry mustard added to ground beef for the barbecue grill gives excellent flavor — you can add half a teaspoon of the mustard to a pound of the meat.

Friends Seek New Members

The Daly City Friends of the Library group is conducting a fall membership drive.

Mrs Ann Eason, chairman of the drive, said that family memberships may be obtained for a fee of $2.50 and organizations may join for a fee of $5.

Payment of $25 will entitle a member to classification as a patron, Mrs. Eason said.

She noted that the group has grown steadily since its inception in 1956 and has provided continuing assistance to the Daly City Library program.

Mrs. Harold Fox of 228 Del Prado Drive, Daly City, is president of the group. Members of the executive board include: Mrs. William Bagnall, Mrs. Samuel Simon, Mrs. George Windhurst, Mrs. Julian Cohn, Robert Evans, Mrs. Frank Specht, Mrs. Winsor Josselyn, and Mrs. Vinton Stratton.

Children Participate in S.S.F. Bible School Fete

More than 85 children participated in a program at St. Paul's Methodist Church, South San Francisco, marking the close of a two-week Vacation Bible School session sponsored by the St. Paul's and Parkwood Buri Buri Methodist Churches.

After words of greeting from the Rev. Robert Lundy of the host church speaking also for vacationing Rev. Gilbert Veira, pastor of the recently merged Parkwood Buri Buri congregations, the youngsters led their parents and guests in worship services similar to those which opened each daily session of the church school.

Included in this was the salute to the flag and the Christian flag and a song, "Wonderful Words of Life."

Under direction of Mrs. Louise Moors and Mrs. Tippy Kron, the fifth and sixth graders presented in the most up-to-date fashion of speaking, a Biblical passage that in the language of the ancients traced the development of Christian attitudes from infancy to adulthood, a fitting close to this segment of the program.

Mrs. Alene Minucianni, co-director with Mrs. Louise Kline, made formal presentation of all staff members

They'll Attend Church In Their Work Clothes

Men and women will be invited to attend worship services in their weekly work clothes at Bethlehem Lutheran Church at 10 a.m. Sunday in commemoration of Labor Day Sunday, according to the Rev. George S. Johnson, pastor.

This will be the third annual Labor Day observance at Bethlehem Lutheran. Last year's service was highlighted by two men in policemen's uniforms who took the morning offering, ond by a men's quartet selection by a doctor, a sheetmetal worker, a teacher and an appliance repairman—all dressed in their work clothes.

Those who do not wear a special kind of clothing for their work may wear some identification of the type of work they do, Reverend Johnson said.

He will preach on "Is My Job A Christian Job?" In his sermon, Reverend Johnson will share some of the insights he has gained from going to work with men from his congregation for half days during the past three months.

Judea Plans Dinner for Dads, Sons

The Brotherhood of Temple Judea will sponsor a father and son sports night Monday, September 16, in the temple on Brotherhood Way.

Jack Fiske, sportswriter for a San Francisco newspaper, will be the master of ceremonies.

Guests will include Bud Polle, coach of the San Francisco Seals, and members of the Seals team. Movies of Seals games will be shown.

A spaghetti dinner will be served at 6:30. The donation will be 75 cents for boys and $1 for fathers. Reservations may be made by calling Martin Segol at WY 2-3691.

In other temple news, the film, "Me and the Colonel," starring Danny Kaye, will be shown at a benefit meeting of the Single Adults of Temple Judea Wednesday, September 18, in the temple's Fellowship Hall.

Registration for the temple's Religious School is now in process.

Officials of Carl Haas Buick at 6888 Mission Street in Daly City reported to police last week that three tires and wheels had been stolen.

THIS IS AN architect's conception of the new St. Mary's Cathedral complex at Gough and Ellis Streets in San Francisco that will become the mother church of North County and Bay Area Catholics. Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken of the Archdiocese of San Francisco last week broke ground and blessed the site for the complex, which will include a high school, a convent, a rectory and the main sanctuary.

D.C. Firemen Battle House Fire in S.F.

Daly City firefighters, operating under a mutual aid agreement, responded to a house fire in San Francisco about 10:50 Saturday night.

The fire swept through the interior of a newly-constructed but vacant house on Velasco Avenue, less than three blocks from a Daly City fire station at Geneva Avenue and Schwerin Street.

A bystander spotted the flames and ran to the Daly City station to turn in the alarm. Daly City firefighters notified San Francisco firemen and then responded to the fire.

Cause of the fire was unknown.

'Peanuts' Will Be Staged By Teen Drama Workshop

The success of the play, "Mr. Dandyweather's Birthday," presented last week by the Daly City Recreation Department's Teen Drama Workshop, has prompted the scheduling of an additional production to the Workshop's program.

The group will start work this week on staging "Peanuts," the popular syndicated comic strip.

Players will use a collection of the actual comic strip and will portray Charlie Brown, Linus, Lucy and even Snoopy.

The production will be under the leadership of David Regal, director of the Workshop. It will be in addition to the previously scheduled "Princess and the Pea."

Regal reported that attendance at the Workshop's sessions this summer has been the largest in the Workshop's history.

He added that he has started a program of teaching students how to direct. Scenes from plays have been assigned student directors with Regal acting as advisor and supervisor.

Cat Strangled; D.C. Boy Cited

Daly City police last week cited a 14-year-old Templeton Avenue boy for cruelty to animals after a neighbor reported the youngster had strangled her cat to death in the Crocker Hills.

The animal's death was reported by Beverly Overdick of 730 Templeton Avenue.

La Touraine's Popularity Is Increasing Daily

The crowds at LA TOURAINE, the little French restaurant in Burlingame, are increasing daily as more and more people hear about the luscious food, Continental service and the fact that they now have the cocktails of your choice. Warm days and nights have also increased the popularity of the air conditioned dining room. Plans for remodeling are going ahead to expand the restaurant's capacity which will include a large banquet room and several smaller meeting rooms. Reservations are now being accepted for banquets—from October forward. La Touraine is owned and operated by MAURICE and MARIE BROSSIER, longtime chefs for the famed Crocker family of Hillsborough, and Maitre d' ERNEST LUISETTI, who is known for his many years at Ernie's in San Francisco. La Touraine is located opposite the Burlingame Post Office (Corton Avenue entrance). Huge free parking areas, at no cost, are just across the street.

HAVE TRIED, without success, to catch up with ENRICO ROMANO, the Pacifica "pizza baron," who, as you know, has gone all out for car racing. He divides his time between cities watching his race car zoom around the tracks. Guess I'll have to join the pack and get myself a "hot rod." . . . Look as far as you like, but you won't find another Mexican restaurant serving the food of this country in the same manner as PANCHO'S MEXICAN CAFE in Redwood City. A stainless steel steam table and kitchen, plus an atmosphere of Mexican grandeur, will make your dinner visit an enjoyable experience. . . . Although well known for its steaks and sea food, NICK'S in Pacifica is much complimented on the Veal Scallopini Marsala (includes choice pieces of veal sauteed with fresh mushrooms and fresh garden herbs blended together). Plate presentation is a chef's work of art. . . . Big favorite with VINCE'S cocktail hour set: Hors d'oeuvres served from 5:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. nightly. Great for that before-dinner hour.

LEW LEHR took his 4-year-old grandson, SCOTTY LEVIN, with him on his golf cart when he played Harding, last week. As Lew was about to shoot, Scotty ran excitedly up to him and said, "Grandpa, I heard footprints!" He'd heard someone walking nearby. Like Grandpa, like Grandson. . . . THE GALAXIE on SF's Broadway is redhot these eves with one of DAVE RAPKEN'S best shows ever. Has THE FRIARS, swim music combo; songsation GAYLE HARRIS; TOPLESS TERI and BAMBI; swim dancers SANDRA LEE and DORI LANE; and the dancin' BEES. . . . Like SALLY RAND'S line in her show at GOMANS' GAY 90'S: "I like older men better; they give you what younger men promise." . . . SUSHIL KAKAR of the TAJ OF INDIA is a past master at preparing Indian dishes. It's my suggestion that you stop in here and "Leave the ordering to Sushil." . . . When the question arises "Where shall we take the family for dinner?" — and teenagers are involved, an "All you can eat" dinner feast is presented at the King's Table for just $1.50 which should meet the bill. Luncheon for $1. is also served.

The "Miss Dee's Fashion Shows" are a Friday noon special at Ron's Surf House. Wednesday through Saturday organ music provided by Lloyd Fox is another outstanding feature.

Highly recommended: The newGourment Table, which is under the direction of Jean and Don Koblick. This is an "All you can eat" specialty house featuring Chinese, Mexican, Italian and American food. A delightful, well-balanced meal awaits your visit.

Scottish Kilts A "New Look" For Waitresses

Mary Lou Alvin of Scotty Campbell's has outfitted her seven waitresses in the real "Scottish McCoy!" — authentic Scottish kilts, no less, with each in tartans from different clans. The smart outfits are topped off with Glen Gary bonnets.

Wouldn't surprise your Bright Lighter if Mary Lou winds up playing the bagpipes. In fact, she should—for the amount of comments and compliments the "new look" is causing.

"Break Bread" With George Mardikian

Point of information: The traditional Armenian bread is lavash, a large round cracker that you break in your hands. From ancient times has come the Armenian custom of holding lavash over the dinner table with your guest, and breaking it together. Many of the Omar Khayyam's restaurant guests are greeted in this manner by Owner George Mardikian.

Mom Bertolucci's Cannelloni

Seldom a week goes by that Bertolucci's Italian restaurant isn't the dining site for a celebrity. You can be sure of one thing: Whenever Buddy Greco is in town he'll make the scene for some of Mom Bertolucci's Cannelloni and a conflab with his long-time pal, Larry Bertolucci.

Barney's Casino is the house that buses built! Well, almost. Without high-priced entertainment or splash revues, canny Barney O'Malia has, within two or three years, built this into one of Lake Tahoe's (South Shore) busiest casinos, via the chartered Greyhound route. Refunds, free coffee, free cocktails and a spectacular Vegas-type sign are among the highly popular lures.

Rotary Pow-Wow

GEORGE STARBIRD of San Jose, right, district governor of Rotary clubs, receives annual committee reports from Daly City Rotary Club President John Wuerthner. Starbird, a former San Jose mayor and holder of a 20-year perfect attendance record in Rotary addressed the Daly City club at luncheon last week. Earlier he met in a two-hour business session with club directors.

Serramonte Zone Change Is Approved

The Daly City Planning Commission has recommended that 13 lots on the south side of Warwick Street between Callan Boulevard and Shipley Avenue in the new Serramonte subdivision be rezoned from two-family to commercial status.

The commission acted upon a request of E. V. Schulhauser of the Suburban Realty Company, developers of Serramonte.

He presented plans for a neighborhood shopping center that would cover a city block. Of this area, he said, only 13 lots, comprising a 100-foot wide strip along the north side of the block, were not zoned commercial.

Schulhauser said that only the southerly 35 feet of the strip would be used for buildings and the remainder for parking.

This, he told the commission, would mean that the nearest single family dwellings would be at least 130 feet away from any commercial building.

He added that plans call for entrances to the shopping center from the four streets that would surround it and that 32 more parking places than required by the city's zoning ordinance would be provided.

In recommending the rezoning request, the commission stipulated that buildings be set back 65 feet from the front property line along the 13-lot strip.

In other business, the commission approved application for illuminated, non-flashing signs at 178 School Street, reading: "Fred Wells Rug Cleaning"; and at 6195 Mission Street for the Pacific Finance Corporation.

Coast Arts Groups Looks Over Pops Concert Site

The Pacifica Association of the Performing Arts is working on arrangements to use the historic Sanchez Adobe area as the site for a series of autumn pop concerts.

Mel Davis, president of the association, Jean Donohue, vice president, and Roland Terry, program chairman, inspected the site and discussed plans for a public address system, audience seating and an outdoor canteen to sell refreshments.

The association is in the process of obtaining concert artists for the muiscal programs, which will be held in October.

Sponsor-memberships may be obtained through a contribution of $10 to the association.

Checks may be made out to the Pacifica Association of Performing Arts and mailed to the association treasurer, Rod Linhares of 12 Acacia Court, Pacifica.

WHEEL, TIRE STOLEN

Thelma Zappettini, of 755 Park Plaza Drive, Daly City, reported to police last week that a spare tire and wheel had been stolen from her auto, parked in a carport.

CHANGE STOLEN

Officials of the Pacific Meter Corporation reported to Daly City police last week that thieves had stolen change from a coin box on a dryer in a laundry room at 455 Eastmoor Avenue.

Hitchhiker Robs Driver

A San Francisco motorist was robbed by a hitchhiker on a desolate dirt road in Daly City early Friday morning. The robber escaped with the motorist's wallet containing $32 and miscellaneous papers.

Francis A. Desmarais, 24, told Daly City police the hitchhiker had forced him to drive to a point on Crocker Road, a quarter of a mile east of Radio Road, and commanded:

"Keep on going and you won't get hurt. All I want is your wallet."

Desmarais said the bandit did not brandish any weapon.

S.F. Youth Badly Hurt

A San Franxisco youth was critically injured last Tuesday afternoon when he was thrown from his motor scooter on a curve on a detour in Daly City.

The youth, Bruce W. Felter, 18, apparently lost control on a curve of the Alemany Boulevard detour near Junipero Serra Boulevard, witnesses told police.

Felter was admitted to Peninsula Hospital with head injuries. Investigators said he apparently was operating the cycle too fast for road conditions.

The detour is being used during the construction of the Junipero Serra Freeway in Daly City. Police said the detour has a sharp curve but is posted with 20-mile-an-hour signs.

Washington Redskin defensive back Jim Steffen weighs 195 pounds but Coach Bill McPeak says he hits as hard as any man 35 pounds heavier.

BOND ISSUE NOT NEEDED

A Technicality Helps JUHSD

A TECHNICALITY will enable the Jefferson Union High School District to buy sites for its fifth and sixth high schools with funds authorized by the State Allocations Board rather than with the proceeds of a new bond issue district residents would have to approve.

The board at its second meeting in June allocated a token $1 each to the building of Serramonte and Pengate High Schools in the Serramonte subdivision.

The action thereby pegged the district's application for building funds to the 1964-65 assessed valuation rather than the 1965-66 figure.

Had the board acted after July, the application would have to be based on the district's new assessed valuation.

THE SIGNIFICANCE of this, according to District Supt. Edward Morgan, is that the district will not have to float a new bond issue to secure land for the two new schools.

He explained that a district must be bonded up to five per cent of its assessed valuation before it can become eligible for state building funds.

Jefferson meets this requirement on the basis of last year's assessed valuation. It does not qualify, however, under the new assessment total for 1965-66.

At a meeting of the Allocations Board September 14, the district will present supporting facts and figures in behalf of its applications for funds to build Serramonte and Pengate.

The district is seeking $3.3-million for Serramonte and $1.1-million for Pengate. The difference in the amounts represents the difference in the cost of land for the two school sites, according to Morgan.

THE DISTRICT each year pays the state back for funds allocated in the past. The amount it pays is subject to the amount the district must expend in a year to retire its maturing bonds.

For this purpose, 40 cents is included each year in the district tax rate. If 20 cents in a given year, for example, is needed to retire bonds, the other 20 cents per $100 of assessed valuation would be turned over to the state.

Morgan said both new high schools will be planned to ultimately accommodate 2,000 pupils. Serramonte will be built first, he said, and at the outset will accommodate 800 to 900 students.

Opening of Serramonte is tentatively scheduled in September of 1968.

Both schools will be erected in three stages. The first will accommodate about 900 students, the second will boost capacity to about 1,400 and third to 2,000.

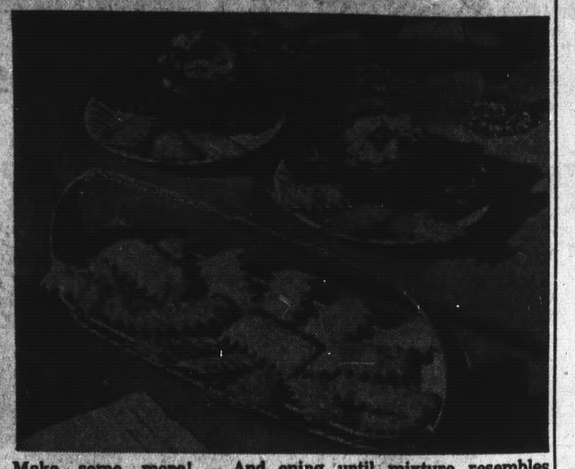
Cheesy Crackers For Empty Barrel



Make some more! — And, please, mom, don't scold junior for treating his friends to the Cheesy Crackers you made for luncheon. Think how tempting those Cheesy Crackers are — so crunchy crips with golden flecks of cheese. Besides, they're very good for junior and his friends because they're made with enriched corn meal—And aren't they kind of cute, those fancy edges you created with the pastry wheel or a knife?

Get busy right now, mom. Mix another batch for luncheon and have some left to fill the empty cracker barrel. Mmmm — Cheesy Crackers are so crunchy good with a main dish, salad, or as a snack for junior and his friends.

CHEESY CRACKERS
Makes 6 Dozen

1¼ cups sifted al-purpose flour
¾ cup enriched corn meal
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
1½ cups grated cheddar cheese
1 egg, beaten
3 tablespoons cold water

Heat oven to hot (400 degrees Fahrenheit). Sift together four, corn meal and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Stir in cheese. Combine egg and water; add a tablespoon at a time, stirring lightly until pastry can be formed into a ball. (If necessary, add an additional one-half tablespoon cold water to make dough hold together.) Roll out on lightly floured board or canvas to ⅛-inch thickness.

Using pastry wheel or knife, cut strips 1½ inches wide. Cut strips into 3-inch lengths. Place on ungreased cooky sheets; prick. Bake in preheated oven (400 degrees Fahrenheit) 8 to 10 minutes.

Easy Way Sauce for The Shrimp

If you like a tangy cocktail sauce with shrimp, here's an easy way to concoct it.

Clam Chowder,
New England Style
Shrimp Cocktail with
Tangy Sauce Bread Basket
Fresh Fruit Cobbler Beverage

SHRIMP COCKTAIL WITH TANGY SAUCE

1 pound medium shrimp (26 to 30 to the count)
1 quart boiling water
2 teaspoons salt
Hot catchup, from a 12-ounce bottle
Home-style prepared horseradish, from a 4-ounce bottle

Rinse shrimp and turn into a saucepan with the boiling water and salt; bring to a boil; cover and simmer just until shrimp are cooked through—2 to 3 minutes. Drain, shell and devein; chill. Mix together the catchup and horseradish in proportions you like—try ¼ cup of catchup to 1 tablespoon of undrained horseradish. Serve the shrimp and the cocktail sauce on shredded lettuce. (Use horseradish that is prepared with vinegar and salt.) Sauce based on a half-cup of the catchup is usually enough for one pound of shrimp. Makes 4 servings.

FRUIT SHORTCAKE — The old-fashioned variety gets extra nutrients, nutty flavor and interesting texture when wheat germ is added to the biscuit base.

Old Fashioned Fruit Shortcake

It's shortcake time and the arguments begin! Should the shortcake base be biscuit or cake?

Although we know that we are adding fuel to the fire, we refuse to take a stand. We insist that both versions—when they are made well—are delicious.

If you want to bake a biscuit-type shortcake, here's a new recipe for that version. Biscuit mix, an excellent product, is used and wheat germ is added. You don't have to be health-conscious to admire this use of wheat germ, for it contributes a nutty flavor all its own.

If you follow these directions, you'll have mammoth size shortcakes. That's for real devotees of this buiscuit-and-fruit-and-cream dessert. If you want to cut down these giant portions, just make the biscuits smaller.

What fruit to serve with the shortcakes? Fresh strawberries and peaches are, of course, traditional. But nowadays with nectarines widely available, you might also like to try that delectable fruit.

WHEAT GERM SHORTCAKES
2 cups biscuit mix
½ cup wheat germ
¼ cup sugar
½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup half-and-half (milk and cream)
Sweetened sliced strawberries or peaches (3 cups or more)
Whipped cream

In a mixing bowl, stir together the biscuit mix, wheat germ and sugar. Cut in ½ cup of the butter or margarine until mixture is crumbly. (Melt remaining butter and reserve for brushing tops of shortcakes.) Add half-and-half, all at once, to biscuit mixture; stir just until dry ingredients are moistened. On a prepared pastry cloth, knead lightly—10 or 12 strokes. Pat or roll to ¾-inch thickness. With a floured 3-inch cookie cutter, cut 8 rounds. Place 4 rounds on baking sheet; brush tops with some of the reserved melted butter; place remaining rounds on tops of ones already on sheets in sandwich fashion. Brush tops with remaining melted butter. Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven until lightly browned—about 12 minutes. Remove top half of shortcakes and arrange bottom halves on serving dishes; spoon over one half of the fruit. Cover fruit with top halves of shortcakes and remaining fruit. Top with whipped cream. Makes 4 mammoth servings.

Snowflake Apple Tart A Follow-Up

Snowflake Apple Tart is a fine follow-up for a Veal Scallopine dinner. Try it for company.

Veal Scallopine
Mashed Potatoes
Snap Beans Salad
Snowflake Apple Tart
Beverage

SNOWFLAKE APPLE TART
¼ pound butter
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese
1 cup unsifted regular flour
3 cups thinly sliced pared tart green apples (1 pound — 4 medium or 6 small)
¼ cup granulated sugar
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
4 tablespoons confectioners sugar

In a medium mixing bowl with a pastry blender, cut the butter and cream cheese into the flour until particles are small, then use hands to work together. (Cream cheese will show in spots.) Wrap; chill until firm. Turn out on a prepared pastry cloth with extra flour over rolling surface. With a floured stockinet-covered rolling pin, roll ¼-inch thick. Invert an 8-inch glass pie plate on center of dough and cut around it; place round of dough in pie plate on center of dough and cut around it; place round of dough in pie plate — it should come up to rim. Place apples over dough; sprinkle with granulated sugar; then cinnamon. Cover tightly with foil. Bake on low rack just below center in a very hot (450 degrees) oven for 20 minutes; remove foil; reduce oven to 400 degrees and continue baking until bottom of crust is golden-brown and apples are tender—10 minutes. Place on a wirerack; sift 2 tablespoons confectioners sugar over apples and serve. Don't worry about juice in tart—it does not make crust soggy. Makes 6 servings. Use leftover pastry scraps for jam turnovers and bake in a hot oven.

Try Recipes For Dressing

COMMENT

She Has Right To Be Fed Up

THE CURRENT demonstrations both in the East Bay and in other parts of the nation against America's Vietnam policies and the war in Vietnam have evoked a considerable amount of comment from all Americans.

A South San Francisco mother, whose son is risking his life for his country in Vietnam, has addressed a letter to The Public Voice columns of our parent publication, The San Mateo Times, in which she questions the stand of two readers who have written letters opposing the American effort in Vietnam. She writes:

"These people can't see our reason for being in Viet Nam. One said, 'One might think them a Communist or radical for his stand on our being in Viet Nam.'

"I would like to ask both of these gentlemen a few questions.

"Have either of you taken a good long look at a world atlas, at the countries, one after another, that have been taken over by Communists? Just as Hitler was on his way to try to take over the world. That was also thousands of miles from our soil. So lots of people said, 'It's their fight. We must not get involved.'

"As I said, take a good look at the atlas, and see where Viet Nam is located and how close the Philippine Islands are.

"Do these men and people that are staging pacifist marches really think for one minute that if we turn our backs on another small country, that the same thing might not take place at any of these islands?

They are so upset about the 'poor civilians.' Have any of them a boy that is there and sees first hand what these 'poor civilians' are doing to our boys?

Well, I have. By day they are around begging for food, candy, cigarettes and other favors. This includes women, children and old men. Then by night the very same ones come around and, in my son's own words, 'Try and blow your head off'."

ALTHOUGH this mother's son's life is at stake, she expresses true American patriotism in recognizing that the United States' policy in the Vietnam military action is sound opposing Communist aggression wherever it may arise and that our commitments to this policy involve our national honor.

The bravery of this mother represents a poignant contrast with the sorry spectacle of the self-glorifying "kooks" who are disgracing California by their antics in attempting to stop Santa Fe troop trains in the East Bay area.

She has eminent right to be "fed up" with the Pacifists and the loudmouths who make a parade of their disloyalty. The rest of us, also, are getting "fed up" with people who do not realize that being an American carries obligations as well as the privilege of prating disloyal nonsense.

Grace Chapel Church

GRACE CHAPEL Community Church at 100 Los Banos Avenue was organized by a half dozen Daly City residents in 1961. The church is independent and fundamental in its views, according to the Rev. Berger Thorness, the founding pastor who continues to guide the congregation. Reverend Thorness was born in Norway and has been a Daly City resident for six years. The church is completing installation of a $22,000 organ and plans to erect a cross just to the east of its sanctuary. Membership now totals 20 to 25 families. (Post-Times Photo)

Ground-Breaking With a Flourish

Don Miller

BY ALL ACCOUNTS, Daly City had everything going for it Thursday when ground was symbolically broken for the city's new municipal home, a neo-classic complex that will gather up all the city's scattered petticoats under one skirt.

First off, a civic luncheon, hosted by the gentlemen who will design the center and by the gentlemen who will build it, was served in the new clubhouse of the Lake Merced Golf and Country Club.

Either by coincidence or by design, the hosts chose a banquet hall that happens to be situated on the same street as the site of the Civic Center. The two are only three blocks away.

This gave the luncheon a feeling of fraternization and it was almost as if Lake Merced was saying: "Gee, Daly City, it's going to be great having you as our neighbor.

This was our first visit to the clubhouse since it was completed to replace the old one—torn down to make way for freeway construction—and we can only say bravo!

The interior is comfortably and tastefully furnished, the view from the big picture windows in the banquet hall and the main dining room is great and the food (if the civic luncheon was any indication) is on the plus side of the cuisine ledger.

IT TAKE MORE, however, to make a civic luncheon a success and fortunately for the celebrants Thursday, the gathering was blessed with a master of ceremonies who not only exhibited a witty repartee but an admirable facility for remembering the names of 60 guests and their associates.

Mayor Frank Pacelli either stayed up late Wednesday night memorizing the list or he has that rare ability of always remembering what name goes with what face and what title goes with what name.

He stumbled only once (over the association of an arch but friendly competitor of ours) but quickly got back on the introduction track when he realized his mistake.

His Honor took obvious delight in introducing his fellow councilmen and though they gave it the old quarterback try in their rejoinders, the Mayor clearly out-quipped each of them.

He introduced Al Polonsky as "Mayor Pro Tem" and explained: "We used to say vice mayor but Daly City has made a lot of progress." (Get it? Vice mayor vice etc., etc.)

Councilman Eddie Dennis bowed in as "senior citizens Dennis," Councilman Mickey DeBernardi was introduced as the next senior citizen — "I have to be nice to Mickey, he's my partner" — and Councilman Bud Lycett's bow was preceded by a short, mayoral lesson in linguistics — to wit, the alternatives in pronouncing "Bernard," Lycett's real first name.

Pacelli's facility with the guest list so impressed Don Grant of the Guy F. Atkinson Company, the Civic Center's contractors that Grant grabbed the microphone from 'hizzoner at the end of the introductions and lauded the mayor's performance, which evoked a nice round of applause from the assemblage.

BESIDES THE clubhouse and the mayor, Daly City also had the weather going for it—but good—at the ground-breaking after the luncheon.

For a while, though, it looked as if the sunshine of mid-morning was going to be chased by an early afternoon fog and as the familiar stuff drifted by the windows behind the luncheon head table, Pacelli suggested the diners expedite proceedings so everybody could at least see where the Civic Center was going to be built before the fog socked in the site altogether.

At this point, Rabbi Herb Morris, who earlier had given the invocation, suggested that maybe if he said it again, the weather might improve and the fog might go away.

Well, either it was a silent reprise or someone threatened the Weather Bureau for when the luncheon participants gathered at the Civic Center site, the fog had retreated smartly, leaving the ground-breaking locale bathed in sunshine.

THE GROUND-BREAKING scene itself was appointed with a large billboard, depicting an architect's sketch of what the Civic Center will look like, a speaker's platform, a supply of shovels and hard hats of the type construction workers wear and rows of folding chairs so everybody could be comfortable when the big moment came.

It was all the paraphenalia and preparation of a big - time ground - breaking ceremony and it was apparent that the city fathers had felt the ceremony was enough of an historic occasion that nothing less than big-time trappings would suffice for the official start of Daly City's new municipal mansion.

The proceedings were even backed up by pleasant, recorded music before the shoveling began—a sound that will be replaced by a different kind of music once the earth movers, the cranes, the hammers and the saws begin their construction symphony September 10 — the day work is scheduled to get under way.

From our vantage point atop an apartment building nearby, it was difficult to envisage out in the empty wastes before us the eye-arresting structure depicted on the billboard down front.

It seemed like too much of a dream to be the accomplishment it's destined to be in some 18 months or so.

But then, as any of the gentlemen who have been involved in this project will tell you, good dreams sometimes have a way of coming true and this is one dream that has that way.

Better Business

The BBB Goes 'International'

Lorene Beasley

THE ASSOCIATION of Better Business Bureaus Incorporated (ABBB), central organization of all accredited BBB's, has added the word "international" to its name.

The change in name was approved at the last annual meeting of the Association, held in May in Mexico City, by representatives from six countries: the United States, Canada, Israel, Mexico, Puerto Rico and Venezuela.

The action has been confirmed by the Secretary of the State of New York where the Association is incorporated.

The Association, in existence for 50 years, originally was known as the National Better Business Commission Incorporated of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World. The AACW is now the Advertising Federation of America.

INCORPORATED in 1921 and headquartered in Cleveland, the association went through other name changes, including National Association of Better Business Bureaus.

The word "national" was dropped in 1946 when the association was established in New York City as a full-time organization with an executive staff.

There have been Canadian Better Business Bureaus since 1928. The first bureau outside of the United States and Canada was established in 1959 in Mexico City.

Since then better business bureaus have been organized in Puerto Rico, Venezuela and Israel and the wide-spreading influence of their work is being felt throughout the world.

THIS EDITORIAL from Rydge's Sales Management Forum, Sydney, Australia, is self-evident that Australians, like Americans, favor the concept of self-regulation as opposed to government regulation:

"The old argument is much in evidence that the Government should do something about it. In several spheres, they are already doing quite a lot; but surely, if we pride ourselves on our free enterprise system, it is up to us through our various trade associations, institutes, and professional bodies to start a little self-regulation, not depend on government action . . .

"In U.S.A. since its inception over 50 years ago, it (BBB) has developed remarkably well, so much so that it has become a consultative body as much as a restrictive force.

"It hasn't cured all the abuses, but it has proved a tremendous force in developing better business standards; it works with and is recognized by government law enforcement agencies."

THE EDITORS from Down Under further said they "believe such a body could and should operate in Australia because we have reached at least as great a stage of business maturity as the United States.

"We also believe that such a development of self-regulation is far more to be desired than through any government regulation, although such may be necessary to add teeth to self-regulation where necessary."

COMMENTING upon the name change, Victor H. Nyborg, ABBB international president, stated:

"This does not indicate any alteration in the purposes, objectives or operations of either the association or its member BBB's.

"It primarily recognizes the fact that the association is composed of bureaus in several countries, something not heretofore generally known."

There has been an increasing interest on the part of business leaders in countries developing consumer oriented free enterprise economies to adapt the time-tested and proven BBB system of business self-regulation and consumer protection to meet new and anticipated business - consumer problems.

It is hoped that the change in name will encourage American and Canadian firms to become individually and collectively more active in backing moves to establish bureaus according to ABBB International standards in the countries where they operate.

THE ABBB INTERNATIONAL is supported by the National Better Business Bureau and local Bureaus in 116 market areas and communities in the United States, ten bureaus in Canada and one each in Israel, Mexico, Puerto Rico and Venezuela.

All BBB's are independent, non-profit membership corporations, financed and directed locally.

Approximately 150,000 firms in all lines of enterprise provide $ million annually to support their operations.

The ABBB International owns the trademarked "Better Business Bureau" name and identity mark that may be used only by accredited bureaus.

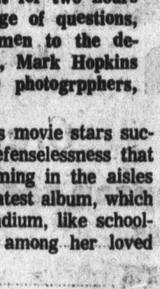
The Magic Of Garland



Barbara Bladen

THE ARDOR, the clamor and the unqualified adoration Judy Garland inspires in her fans, was evidenced again last week when she met with the press and completely bowled them over. And she wasn't even singing.

She and her fiance, Mark Herron, sat for two hours under very hot lights, answered a barrage of questions, signed autographs and joked with newsmen to the delight of Circle Star Theatre management, Mark Hopkins Hotel management, and more than 100 photogrpphers, interviewers and columnists.

Then these jaded chroniclers of countless movie stars succumbed to the same Garland charm and defenselessness that has her legions of fans weeping and screaming in the aisles after every concert. They lined up with her latest album, which she and daughter Liza recorded at the Palladium, like schoolboys before a celebrity and were counted among her loved ones.

DRESSED IN A CLINGING black jersey dress adorned with a pearl and rhinestone choker and earrings, an enormous emerald and diamond ring and a black fur, the short singer answered personal and impersonal questions with a smile, a occasional quip and only a faint trace of nervousness which left once the television cameras were turned off. She sipped a gin and tonic and smoked while her admirers pressed closer.

"Is it true I open the same night as the Beatles (last night)? My God, maybe we can make a deal. I'll sing half their show if they'll come down to mine. They're great guys. I loathed them at first, couldn't believe they'd last, but like Elvis they went on and on. They own Liverpool, don't they? Face it, they've managed themselves and been managed very well."

She repeated again and again how much she likes San Francisco but conceded that "I'm like a train with many cities in my repertoire."

Many of the questions centered on her daughter Liza, who won the Tony award for "Flora, the Red Menace."

"My daughter doesn't have to follow in my footsteps. She has her own talent. Naturally I'm very proud of her."

THROUGHOUT the interview, Herron stood attentively at her side. He shielded her from the lights, held a box of yellow roses which the little daughter of a magazine writer presented her, and bent over to kiss her on the lips mid-way between questions.

He didn't have too much to say except to confirm the long-standing rumor about whether they would marry.

"We'll be married next month. It will be in this country but we haven't decided on which city."

This Funny World

IT ALL STARTED out as an ordinary citizen's complaint and wound up tangled in intra-family relations.

"Why," asked Ronald Johnson of 68 Wilson Street, Daly City, "are cars and trucks allowed to park on the sidewalks on Wilson Street!"

Mayor Francis Pacelli, presiding as usual over the City Council session, listened gravely to the young man and replied:

"Well, Ronald, we followed up on this and a patrolman called at your house and your father told the officer that he hadn't complained about the parking, that he didn't want any investigation.

"Now, who's going to win out here—father or son? Your father even said—and I'll quote him directly—'there's something rotten in Denmark.'"

Replied Ronald:

"Well, I'm breaking away from the family.

Pacelli: "Oh, you're not breaking away from your family. Tell you what we'll do. We'll instruct our staff to check on the parking again. Is that fair?"

Ronald: "Yes, that's fair."

Pacelli: "We'll send someone down to your house."

Ronald: "I won't be home, I have to work."

Pacelli: "Why don't you tell your dad that the police will be down to talk to him."

THE YOUTH assured the mayor he'd do that and as he turned to leave the council chamber, Pacelli said gently:

"Thank you for coming, Ronald. I didn't mean to put you on the spot but once in a while we're efficient."

To which the other councilmen, grinning in agreement, said a silent "amen."

Stories of the American Dream

Samuel Chandler

"GIVE ME SOME stories" a mother writes "that will tell my daughter about the American dream."

Okay, let her start with Audrey White Beyer's novel "Katharine Leslie." It is the story of a 16 year old girl who is sentenced to prison for 14 years for a crime she did no commit.

In Newgate, life grows unbearable when her only friend is shipped to Jamacia to be sold as a servant. Her wretched life is relieved only when young doctor Michael Edes helps her escape to America where she finds some of the security she longs for in the home of a wealthy tory merchant.

But time and events move more swiftly than revolution. Only when her dreams change does not realize that security is found in universal liberty rather than privilege for some and servitude of the rest. Then she learns the true nature of love and of the direction of her own heart.

IT'S A GOOD story—exciting, adventureous. Katharine is a troublesome heroine. Her cries for sympahy evoke the reader's tears. Yet her flirtation with the tyrants of wealth disgust the reader and drive him to the next page to see if she will conquer herself before she loses the friendship of the people who can make her happy and the love of a man who has proven that he holds the key to her future.

When Katharine reaches the climax of her life and makes her choice, the reader sighs with relief. She has moved him. She is a flesh and blood heroine. Someone should make a movie of the novel of the American dream.

When choosing a story to teach an ideal, such as the American dream, one must realize that the story elements—plot, character, time, setting, suspense and adventure—are vitally important, otherwise the book is nothing more than a tract—another lesson.

The closer the story stays to the significance of historical facts the more valid is the experience the author is able to give through the world he recreates and the understanding he has acquired of the ideal he is teaching. Only when the reader is moved by the times and the crisis that the characters meets in his sympathy and his mind moved.

THE STORIES of Laura Ingalls Wilder recreates the world of the pioneers where she found "principles," she wrote, "that are always true; they can never change. Our great improvements in living," she continues, "have been made because every American has been free to pursue his happiness and so long as Amricans are free, they will continue to make our country ever more wonderful.

Her stories are aimed at children 8 to 10 or 12. They tell of life in Wisconsin, Kansas, Minnesota, and the Dakotas 80 years ago.

"In these stories," one reviewer writes, Mrs. Wilder has caught the very essease of pioneer life, the feeling of satisfaction brought by hard work, the thrill of accomplishment." Of the American dream of liberty, her characters learn that freedom along with safety and comfort are the results of resourcefulness and exertion.

The central characters are members of Mrs. Wilder's own family, Pa and Ma and Mary and Laura and Baby Carrie. The experiences they pass though are those that Mrs. Wilder knew during her childhood. They are painted with excitement and integrity. The author is so sensitive in drawing her characters they virtually come alive, giving the reader new friends who seem as real as the next door neighbors.

MRS. WILDER'S books are "Little House in the Big Woods," "Little House on the Prairie," "Farmer Boy," "Little Town on the Prairie," "On the Banks of Plumb Creek," "By the Shores of Silver Lake," "The Long Winter," and "These Happy Golden Years."

One collection that children will love is "Told Under the Stars and Stripes." Its subtitle tells its contents and nature—stories of all of America's children, rich and varied in custom and origin. Each story was selected for inclusion by the Association for Childhood Education International.

The stories, while most adventuresome, illustrate the molding of America from the customs and traditions that immigrants especially the children—brought from all other nations of the world.

The 'Olympics' of Potato Sack Competition

THEY'RE OFF and running in the potato sack derby of the annual junior Olympics program of the Daly City Recreation Department at Westlake Park. As expected, the derby proved to be one of the most popular events of the day—from a spectator's standpoint. Other contests included softball throwing, standing broad jump and potato carrying relays. The 'Olympics' closed out the Recreation Department's summer playground program. (Post-Times Photo)

Colma Police Chief Dodges Car; Motorist Is Arrested

A young Burlingame man was arrested last Wednesday after he allegedly attempted to run down Colma Police Chief Albert Logarmarsino when the chief was giving the man a traffic citation.

The incident stemmed from a traffic controversy between the suspect, Kent G. Dyson, 22, of 2109 Clarice Lane, Burlingame, and Northern District Attorney Alan W. Haverty, Judge DeLarios was southbound on El Camino Real about 2:15 p.m. and was attempting to make a left turn onto Old Mission Road, which angles into the highway at Colma.

Dyson, northbound on Old Mission Road, was attempting to turn from that street south onto El Camino. Because of traffic flow, the judge's car was in such a position that it was blocking the Dyson vehicle, Haverty explained.

According to reports, Dyson cursed the judge. After the latter was unable to reason with Dyson, Chief Lagomarsino, who was directing traffic for a funeral procession a short distance away, arrived and told Dyson to park his car. The judge departed.

Haverty said that Dyson parked in a traffic lane on El Camino and was directed by Lagomarsino to pull off the roadway. Dyson allegedly gunned his car at the chief, who managed to jump enough out of the way so that he was only hit a glancing blow on the leg.

Lagomarsino collared Dyson and booked him at county jail on charges of assault with a deadly weapon (a car) and disturbing the peace.

Laguna Tax Rate Drops 16 Cents

The Laguna Salada School District's up-and-down tax rate, previously estimated at anywhere from a 35-cent increase to a nine-cent cut, will be 16 cents less per $100 of assessed valuation for the 1965-66 fiscal year, trustees learned last week.

The new rate will be $3.46.

Prior to the reassessment of property undertaken by County Assessor Ralph Woodman, district officials had predicted a tax boost of 35 cents.

The reassessment program and a series of estimates of total district appraisals thereafter resulted in a succession of varying tax estimates.

The new budget includes a salary boost for teachers of slightly more than 3.5 per cent and a 3.5 increase for other employes.

In other business, trustees set November 15 as the target date for the completion of the new San Andreas School.

Trustees had hoped the school would be open at the start of classes this month or soon thereafter.

However, a strike by painters has held up work at the school. A request by contractors for an extension of a prior scheduled completion date was approved by trustees.

A second school under construction, Portola, will open in time for the beginning of the fall semester, trustees were told. The board tentatively decided to inspect the school Friday.

In other business, trustees accepted bids for audio-visual equipment for a new foreign language program in the upper grades.

The program, compulsory by state law, will be taught by classroom teachers using monaural tape recorders, multiphone panels and head sets. Language laboratories will be augmented by educational television programming.

Attendance reports and an evaluation of the 1965 summer school program were given to the board by Mary Sundberg, administrative interne.

The average daily attendance, she said, was close to that of last year.

She recommended smaller remedial classes so the teachers could give more individual help; more enrichment work; more team-teaching; more electives, and the start of ungraded programs.

Both teachers and pupils in the summer session were questioned to obtain ideas that will be incorporated in the 1966 program, she added.

Under new business, trustees were asked to study a new legislative bill, effective September 18, that outlines procedures for initiating a merit plan for non-teaching employees.

Representatives of the California School Employees Association answered questions and discussed the procedure necessary for administration of a merit plan.

Employees must first present a petition to the board, which then will study the pros and cons of a merit plan.

Riders Will Hit Record

The Laguna Salada School District will transport a record number of children to classes in the coming year.

District officials expect that between 930 and 950 pupils will be riding buses to school when classes begin September 13.

To accommodate the students who ride to school, the district will contract for five Jefferson High School District buses and three Greyhound Company buses in addition to its own fleet of four buses.

Complete bus schedules will be posted at each school together with class lists.

New Club to Be Sponsored

The Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation Commission will sponsor a new club in Pacifica.

Called, "Los Pacificans," the group is an adult club open to anyone over age 40. Unlike the Pacifica Teen Club, it will be self governed. Francis Brydone-Jack will be the program director. Meetings will be held the first and third Tuesdays at the Oddstad Community Center in Linda Mar.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

After eating food containing sugar or carbohydrates, acid begins forming in your mouth. You should brush your teeth within fifteen minutes after eating before the acid has a chance to damage the enamel.

Use a toothbrush with a small head. Take time; give the tooth-paste a chance to work.

Brush down on upper teeth. Brush up on lower teeth. Force bristles into spaces between the teeth while brushing inner and outer surfaces.

Use scrubbing motion when brushing the chewing surfaces.

If you cannot brush your teeth after eating, you should rinse your mouth thoroughly with water.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern centures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

STUDY ABROAD may become part of the annual College of San Mateo tour to Europe, according to William J. Walsh, CSM dean of men who has returned from a four-week sojourn on the continent.

Walsh spoke to officials at several European universities during his stay and reported that next year students may be able to spend three weeks studying European culture or western civilization at the University of Pisa at Viarregio on the western Italian coast.

The program would be part of a five-week stay in Europe.

Walsh said that room, board and tuition for the three weeks would amount to $160. Initiation of the program is dependent upon interest shown this year by students, he added.

Twenty-two students on this summer's tour were enrolled in "Introduction to European Culture," a two-unit course. They were required to submit a paper at the end of the tour, comparing countries they visited.

A total of 147 CSM students, employes and their families went to Europe under the auspices of the tour this summer. Roundtrip air fare cost $430.

Two tours were planned—one through central and southern Europe and one concentrating on the Balkans and taking the tourists behind the Iron Curtain.

Seventy-eight persons participated in these tours for an additional $445. The others traveled on their own. Walsh, who led the central European tour, termed it "very successful."

TESTING AND counseling for fall semester courses in College of San Mateo's Evening College began Monday, and are scheduled at intervals throughout the next two weeks before the opening of classes September 13.

All students who plan to enroll in an English course for credit for the first time must take a placement test at 7 p.m. today in the student cafeteria.

This is not an entrance test, but determines students' proficiency in English and indicates which courses they are eligible to enter, a college spokesman explained.

Led by professional college counselors, counseling meetings are designed to acquaint the student with the training opportunities afforded by the college and to inform him of academic requirements for different educational objectives.

CSM's courses of study are explained in detail and students are told how to plan for transfer, terminal and vocational programs. Ample time is alloted for individual questions at the end of each session.

Evening College registration for the fall semester will take place at the first class meeting in each course, which occurs during the week of September 13. A non-refundable fee of $3 is charged all students 21 years old or more.

Schedules for Evening College classes may be obtained from the college or at most public libraries in San Mateo County.
